

Advice To The Lovelorn

By HEATRICE FAIRFAX.

NOT FOND ENOUGH TO WEED.

Dear Miss Fairfax: I am a girl, 19, who has been going about with a young man eight years my senior. We have known each other for almost a year. He claims he is really in love with me. Now, Miss Fairfax, I think I am too young to pledge myself to any one man. I am fond of him, but do not love him. I want to keep his friendship. I have told him my sentiments. He says he cannot come only as a friend because he loves me too much. Perplexed.

There is only one answer to your question. If you do not love him, why should you devote your time to him exclusively? If he cannot treat you as a friend, then it would seem his best plan would be not to see you.

MET THROUGH FLIRTATION.

Dear Miss Fairfax: Last summer I met a young man through a flirtation which he started. It was a case of love at first sight on both sides. He came to call five nights a week and we took many trips, and on some occasions his sister joined us. After three months he called one evening and left as usual, but never came to call again. Two weeks later I met him with a girl he had told me he cared nothing about. It is over six months now since he has come to call, and now when he meets me he merely bows. Don't you think there is some one I could get to speak to him or have him speak to me? Broken-Hearted.

Girl, Mistaken for Burglar, Shot to Death

Navaho, Mo., July 6.—Being mistaken for a burglar brought a revolver bullet, which resulted in the death of Miss Sabra Douglas, 20, here early the other Sunday morning. She was shot by James Treasure, a railroad conductor, who mistook her for a robber as she was entering the Treasure home, where she lived.

Who'd Want to See a Creek All Drunk?

Cheyenne, Wyo., July 6.—Liquor "highlanders" feared so much booze might pollute the water of Crow creek, so they broke into the basement of the postoffice building here and stole a large quantity of the several hundred gallons of whiskey and wine that had been seized by United States "dry" officers and stored in the federal building. The theft occurred following announcement that the wet goods were to be poured into Crow creek.

T.—It is always a question as to whether face powder is harmful or not. I have never found a case where a good face powder did any harm, and I am inclined to think that it is better to have the pores of the face filled with pure powder than with the impure dust and grease that is in the atmosphere of any city. I would not advise a stout woman to wear a net dress with small ruffles. This style is very girlish and looks well only on slim figures.

H. R.—Sulphur and borax are the same as sulphur and molasses and has the same action—that is, it is a laxative and a blood purifier.

P. N. A. C. J.—Judging from your description of yourself I should say you were very attractive. Popularity, you know, does not always rest upon good looks. It would be, of course, quite impossible for me to tell why you are not popular. It is probably a matter of your own temperament. The best thing for you to do is to study those of your friends who are most popular. Try to find out the secret of this from them.

Vivian—Using cream will not have any effect on hands that perspire too much. Sometimes tight clothing will cause excessive perspiration. Usually I think it is due to nervousness. You will find, however, some relief if you dust your hands with borax and powder.

A Teacher—It is not harmful to use kerosene on the hair and it is the best means of killing vermin. Let it stay on over night, shampoo next day, soak in vinegar, comb out all the eggs with a fine tooth comb. The kerosene kills the active vermin, the vinegar loosens the eggs.

Miss R. A.—The grayness in your hair is probably due to your recent illness. Instead of dye, use a hair tonic. I will gladly send you the formula for mine, if you will send me a letter with a self-addressed and stamped envelope enclosed. Massage the neck with a flesh-building cold cream. I will also send you the formula for this if you wish. Exercise the muscles of the neck every day by rolling the head around on the shoulders. If you can do so, follow your massage by rubbing the neck with ice. You need some sort of an astringent and this is one of the best.

A. R. K.—If you have such a large bust I judge that you are too stout all over. In that case your own suggestion about dieting is the very best one to follow. For a reduction of the whole body will also reduce the bust. Wear low corsets and unboned brassiere, which you can either make or purchase very cheaply.

A Line O' Cheer Each Day O' The Year

By JOHN KENDRICK HANGS.

A NATURE NOTE.
TWO things I'm glad of in these July days:

I gather first from a voice that utters
From Katy-dids in volume unrestrained
That Katy stands as yet quite unconvinced.

And second when the ventricle draws near,
And grateful notes from Whip-poor-ings follow
I gather that whatever his staid snipping
Poor little Bill has not yet got his whipling.

Whence I am hoping that no sounding fery
Is going to swerve the justness of the jury
To whom their cases seem to be submitted.
And that we'll shortly find them both acquitted.
And in some coming season all un-happied
We'll hear that Bill and Katy have been married.
And dwell in peace, despite the cost of living, whatever they may have been forgiven.

London Teachers Win Wage Boost Battle

London, Eng., July 6.—After a long and desperate struggle, the London school teachers have won their fight for higher wages, although the vast majority of the teachers throughout the British Isles are still drawing pre-war pay.

The new scale for London elementary school teachers is 200 pounds (1800) for men just entering the profession, rising to 425 pounds annually. Women teachers will start at 187 pounds 10 shillings, rising to 340 pounds annually, with women principals drawing 350 pounds.

As in America, the pay of teachers is so small that few persons are entering the profession of sacrifice and service. The school teachers, most of whom are men, will not average for the primary grades more than 240 pounds annually. The women teachers have been fighting a losing battle for equal pay.

FROM the amount of racket Colum-bus Allison has been making this week on his roof with a hammer and nails, he has been doing almost as much work as the law allows. He is one of these fellows that don't like to work unless he is where he can be seen and can make a lot of noise. That is why he didn't like to dig caterns.

Sugar dropped several cents a pound this week and the deputy constable has started an investigation as to the cause of it.

Ready to Eat—just Heat

A Flávory New "Surprise" to Vary the Daily Menu

Now—at the grocer's—this tempting new fare awaits you: Snowy, fluffy kernels of corn—the plump, white, succulent inner parts—steam-creamed to a melting tenderness and brimming in sweet rich milk, real country milk that's laden with thick yellow country cream. Try this Delicious Creation

The delicate savor of fresh popped-corn is mingled with a buttery-creamy flavor in a blend that teases the palate. It's a taste that delights all—and "surprises" because it's new.

A ration rich in nutriment, too—a balanced supplier of muscle and energy. Yet easily digestible and non-heating. Splendid for youngsters as well as big folks.

Six heaping helpings in each can. Serve as a vegetable in place of potatoes. Or as a new breakfast cereal—just add sugar, for they're swimming in creamy milk. Or replace costly meat, preparing them au gratin as the main dish. Other recipes on label.

Just heat—and eat. They're a pleasing variety, however served. And once tasted they'll be wanted often.

Ask your grocer for a can of Dairy Maid Milk Hominy—in creamy milk. No substitutes exist—they're a new idea, a flávory, nutritious, economical new idea in food.

Serve this treat tomorrow sure—save time, save fuel, save money—with this surprise-delight at mealtime.

Nightmare Acts Not Cruel, Judge Opines

Chicago, Ill., July 6.—Judge Jesse H. Hildum, in dismissing a divorce suit in the circuit court recently, handed down an official opinion of a nightmare.

Mrs. Ellen Harris, in suing her husband, William A. Harris, testified that one night while she was asleep he grabbed her by the throat "and almost killed me."

It wasn't until Mr. Harris's attorney began to cross examine her that Mrs. Harris recalled that the choking had been an incident of one of her husband's nightmares, and that he had not awakened after he'd choked her for ten minutes.

"That's not cruelty," said the judge. "That's a nightmare, and cannot be used."

Other charges were denied by Harris, and the suit was dismissed.

Br'er Jackrabbit Carries a Punch in Hind Foot

Ottawa, Kan., July 6.—Br'er Jackrabbit carries a knockout punch in each hind foot. If you doubt it, consult J. A. Canfield, of this place.

The other day a Jackrabbit chased by dogs ran close to Canfield, who reached out and caught it by a hind leg. Canfield's remaining hand was so badly lacerated by the animal's other hind foot that a surgeon's services were required.

Introduces Musicless Dance to Parisians

Paris, France, July 6.—The "whimmy," the fox trot, or the one-step may be danced without any music at all and simply to the accompaniment of poetry, read aloud according to Miss Inebel d'Echassary, star of the Buenos-Aires opera, who is demonstrating the "musicless dance" before Paris musicians and artists.

Not that Miss d'Echassary would dance them herself, for she considers them the output of bohemian minds. She has confined herself to doing elaborate dances in gauzy draperies while her assistant read about rhythmic poems adapted from the Greek.

All one need do is to set a clean toothbrush with liquid shimmer, draw this through the hair before doing a step, and the hair will dry in just the sweetest waves and curls. Tails will also keep the hair beautifully soft, airy and loose. A few ounces of liquid shimmer will last for months.—Adv.

This Makes the Curl Stay in Your Hair

The shimmer method is unusually popular just now, according to the druggists. This is largely due to the warm weather and because women are now spending so much of their time out of doors. The simple method not only produces the loveliest, natural-looking curls and waves, but it keeps the hair in curl no matter how hot or how moist the day, or how hard the wind blows.

Husband of 13-Year-Old Arrested as Abductor

Marick, L. I., July 6.—Pretty little Christina Petrillo's romance, which prompted her to run away from home and school and, although only 13 years old, marry William Jackson, was shattered when constable Will Strohm and Preston R. Chapman, Nassau county representative of the S. P. C. C., placed her husband under arrest charged with abduction.

The young couple were taken before justice S. T. Keen, of Lynbrook. After a hearing, at which it developed that the girl had planned her escape and had later lied about her age in order to obtain the marriage license, due to the urging of Brodyck, the justice committed Brodyck to Mincola jail in default of $5000 bail to await the action of the grand jury. The girl wife was committed to the Brooklyn S. P. C. C.

Cottonwood Falls, Kan., July 6.—Chickens in Chase county, come high—$10 each—that is, if you're a motorist and shoot 'em.
